
CLEAR CHANNEL'S ADVERTISER GROUP NAMES NEW PRESIDENT

Clear Channel

Greg Glenday has been promoted to president of national advertiser development for Clear Channel Radio's National Advertiser Platforms Group.

Glenday has been with Clear Channel for 14 years and has played a lead role in some of the company's largest national advertising deals, Clear Channel said in a press release.

Clear Channel's National Advertiser Platform Group helps companies implement national advertising plans across all Clear Channel Radio business units.

In his new role, Glenday will also collaborate with Jeff Howard, president of Clear Channel Radio Sales, and Carol Terakawa, executive vice president of Premiere Radio Network Sales and company head Charlie Rahilly.
