

FAKE NEWS SITES PROLIFERATE

Fake news websites are increasing and they are getting bolder with their claims. Last month the FTC said companies controlled by internet marketer Jesse Willms were using CNN, MSNBC, "60 Minutes" and other news logos alongside statements like "Featured on" and "As Seen on TV." Mr. Willms disagreed and said his operation was completely legal. Read the original article here: Fake News Ads Persist Despite FTC Crackdown
