

THE MEDIA EQUATION

In this day and age, consumers have the upper hand in choosing which type of media they want to use. There are so many different options out there, and companies are fiercely competing against each other to vie for the attention of the majority of consumers in their respective markets. Read the full article here:

The Media Equation: Rules for the New Ways of Watching - David Carr

<https://blog.granted.com/>