

JOB OPENINGS ON THE RISE IN MINNESOTA

It is really wondrous that Minnesota is making great leaps in job openings. Jumping to almost 48 percent by the last quarter of 2011, due to the enormous demands for workers in social services, health care, bars, hotels and stores. Minnesota had recently declared that around 7,900 new jobs had been gained in the month of December, making the unemployment rate down to 5.7 percent, which is the lowest in the past three years..
