

JOB SEARCH MADE EASIER BY LOCAL MAN

A local Collegeville resident strives to make the job-search process a little bit easier. Mike Schuler, tired of remaining a bystander, has created a job search website Hometown Job Search, which helps local residents find employment. The service is 100 percent free for both prospective employees and employers. Schuler adds "It really was born out of good intentions," he concluded. "How many lives can I possibly touch in a really positive manner? Hopefully, people will use it."

Read the full article here:

Local Man Hopes to Make Job Searching Easier - Patch.com

<https://blog.granted.com/>