
MANHATTAN'S HORN CORP. GIVES OFFICE SPACE TO UNEMPLOYED AD WORKERS

Manhattan ad agency The Horn Corp. is offering free office space to unemployed advertising pros looking for work. Each day a small crowd of grateful people works out of their office on their laptops, sending out resumes. The job-searchers have formed a small community, helping each other chase down job leads. Agency honcho Ariel Horn brainstorms with the job-seekers, discussing possible projects. If Horn likes an idea, he may pursue it with his firm -- and hire the person who came up with the idea. The Horn Corp is a full-scale marketing and media agency based in New York City. Where can you find the most advertising agency jobs? Click here.
