

---

HOW TO RESEARCH THE INTERVIEWER

If you were referred initially to the interviewer by a third party, that person can be re-contacted for background data. Mutual friends or acquaintances can give you information on the background and interests of the interviewer. Newspapers, directories, and annual reports can be of some assistance. One of the best sources of background data is the interviewer's secretary. Read More

<https://blog.granted.com/>