
AON CONSULTING HIRES PANG AS RESEARCH DIRECTOR

Aon Consulting has hired Alan Pang as research director for the firm's Global Research Center. Pang will be responsible for managing and building the business of the Global Research Center, which gives strategic attention to human capital issues of concern to boards and executive management. He has more than 10 years of experience in the human resources industry, as a practitioner and business leader. Most recently with Hewitt, Pang was the managing director of that firm's HR outsourcing business for China. Pang will work out of Singapore. Aon Consulting Worldwide is a global human capital consulting firm, with 2008 revenues of $1.358 billion, and more than 6,300 professionals in 229 offices worldwide.

<https://blog.granted.com/>