
NEW HEAD OF HR AT AIG

AIG has named Jeff Hurd to replace Anastasia Kelly as its head of Human Resources. Jeff Hurd was previously Chief Administrative Officer for AIG and oversaw the company's asset-managing restructuring. Kelly, who also served as general counsel and vice chairman, resigned last week after her compensation was reduced significantly by US Pay Czar Ken Feinberg. Feinberg oversees the salaries of executives from companies who received bailout money until they have repaid the taxpayers.
