

---

SABRELINER GETS NEW V.P. OF HUMAN RESOURCES

John F. White has been named vice president of human resources for aviation-services provider Sabreliner Corp. White will be responsible for all facets of the company's personnel relations, recruitment and training. He most recently served in the human resources department for Crane Merchandising Systems in Bridgeton, Mo.

"John is a seasoned human resources executive who shares our passion for ethical and top-notch performance," said Patrick J. Finneran Jr., Sabreliner president and chief executive officer. "I expect his skills to be exceptionally valuable as we pursue our primary goal of sustainable growth."

Sabreliner provides aviation services to civilian companies and the government. The company has 460 employees and is headquartered in St. Louis.