
HARRIS STRATEX NAMES GIGOUX AS CHIEF H.R. OFFICER

Wireless solutions provider Harris Stratex Networks has appointed Mimi Gigoux as senior vice president and chief human resources officer. Gigoux, who bring over 25 years experience to the position, most recently was a consultant and founder of Tribal Works Consulting. Gigoux has also held senior positions at Redback Networks, Digital Fuel and NeoForma among others. In her new role she will oversee Harris Stratex's worldwide human resources organization. "Mimi is a seasoned and well respected leader who brings a wealth of expertise in the key functional areas of human resources including leadership development, executive coaching, mergers and acquisitions integration, recruiting and compensation," said Harald Braun, president and chief executive officer. "Mimi's many years of experience in understanding and managing complex human resources challenges coupled with her innovative leadership style will make her a tremendous addition to our executive team." Harris Stratex Networks serves all global markets, including mobile network operators, public safety agencies, private network operators, utility and transportation companies, government agencies and broadcasters.

<https://blog.granted.com/>