
ANNE BRYAN HANSON NAMED NEW HUMAN RESOURCES DIRECTOR FOR PARK STERLING BANK

North Carolina's Park Sterling Bank has brought on Anne Bryan Hanson as the new human resources director and executive vice president. "Bryan Hanson brings significant human-resources experience and knowledge to our company," said James Cherry, the CEO of Park Sterling. "We are pleased to welcome her as we increase our capabilities to meet the growing demands of our company in preparation for our expansion across the Carolinas and Virginia." As the human resources director, Bryan Hanson will head the start up of staffing initiatives. She will be in charge of compensation, benefits, diversity programs, performance management and staff development. Before signing on with Park Sterling, Bryan Hanson oversaw human resources for Virginia, Maryland and Washington D.C.

<https://blog.granted.com/>