ULTIMATE SOFTWARE TO CONDUCT FREE WORKSHOP IN PA.

Ultimate Software has revealed plans to host a human resources workshop next Monday at The Union League in Philadelphia. The workshop will be free and interactive. Top HR executives from across the spectrum will gather to discuss new HR tools and procedures. According to BusinessWire, the aim of the workshop will be to help HR executives "assess a company's readiness for 360-degree feedback, instruct managers about inappropriate interview questions, develop legally binding restrictive covenants and noncompete agreements. Persons can register for the conference at Ultimate Software's website.
