
PROFESSIONAL SERVICES FIRM HRQ HIRES NEW MANAGING DIRECTOR

Award-winning professional services firm hrQ announced Leah Hughes has joined as the managing director of the companies Dallas office. "We are pleased with the strength of human resource and recruiting expertise Leah brings from many significant Texas and global companies. The depth of her network and knowledge of the human capital sector will serve hrQ's current and future client base well," said CEO of hrQ, Molly McCoy. The move in Dallas is part of the companies larger national plan. "We find the Dallas market ideal for hrQ's service offerings and growth plan. The business landscape offers diversity of industry, a strong talent pool, many corporate headquartered locations and an increased demand for strong human resource talent and infrastructure," explained McCoy.

<https://blog.granted.com/>