
BRUCE WALLER NEXT IN LINE FOR PRESIDENT OF DHRMA

The Dallas Human Resource Management Association has elected Bruce Waller, vice president of corporate relocation for Dallas-based Armstrong Relocation, as its president-elect in 2011. He will become DHRMA president in 2012 after a year mentoring under 2011 President Dr. Sandra Reid. DHRMA, also known as DallasHR in industry circles, is the regional chapter of the Society for Human Resources Management. It has more than 2,000 members. Waller commented on his election in a press release. "During my two-year leadership, I plan to continue the mentorship for others that I received when I first joined," Waller said. "Hopefully, through mentorship and education, we can help stimulate thinking among our fellow companies that will benefit DallasHR on both the local and national landscape." DallasHR was formed to foster the professional development of the membership, to be a forum for the exchange of ideas, and to provide leadership for human resource concerns.
