granted

CYBERCRIME FIGHTING COSTS TRIPLES FOR U.S. COMPANIES IN 5 YEARS

 According to a cybersecurity organization, the U.S companies spend more than $130 billion for data breaches.That's three times the amount that companies spend in 2006. Larry Ponemon, who is chairman of the Ponemon Institute says that the problem is just getting bigger and harder to fight. Read the full article here: Cost of Fighting Cybercrime Soars

https://blog.granted.com/