

EEOC TO LOOK INTO CRIMINAL BACKGROUND CHECKS

The process of conducting criminal background checks on job aspirants is a common business practice among a huge number of employers which is being considered by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to having brought a disparate impact on minorities. The EEOC is going to bring some kind of guidance in this process which will largely affect the employers. Read the full article here: EEOC's new focus: Criminal background checks

<https://blog.granted.com/>