

---

OBAMA SENDS HIS NEW JOBS BILL TO CONGRESS

President Obama hopes that Congress would help improving the unemployment benefits' program. Instead of receiving unemployment checks, individuals can participate in a job training program through companies looking to hire. The idea that companies could use unemployment checks to fund their training program for jobless individuals will depend on some tax cuts and new spending.

Read the original article here:

Obama jobs bill adopts Georgia unemployment benefits program

<https://blog.granted.com/>