

---

CAN FLU SHOTS BE MANDATED?

Edel Cuadra's worst idea any policy without wiggle room is asking for trouble, and a mandatory flu vaccination policy is no exception. then employees may have medical or religious reasons for not getting flu shots, for example: Consider an incentive-based vaccination policy. Offering small rewards won't guarantee 100% participation, but it will help potentially avoid the legal headaches of mandatory shots.

Read the full article here:

Answers to tricky HR questions: Can we mandate flu shots?

<https://blog.granted.com/>