
GREENTECH MANUFACTURING TO CREATE 320 GEORGIA JOBS

GreenTech Manufacturing will invest more than $20 million in a new manufacturing and distribution center in Douglas, Georgia, creating 320 jobs. The company makes environmentally friendly construction products. Governor Sonny Perdue says the company will offer high-quality and high-paying administrative, technical and operational jobs. GreenTech uses up to 95% recycled materials to make lightweight construction products. The firm is owned by Texas-based Gulf Coast Arms.
