LAYOFFS PLANNED AT NEW YORK COLLEGE

More layoffs are coming at Medaille College, but officials won't reveal how many employees will lose their jobs. Some laid-off support staff could be hired by Philadelphia-based Aramark, a maintenance and custodial service provider for Medaille. The college is looking to fill four faculty positions. The latest round of layoffs comes seven weeks after the four-year private college released seven employees. Laid-off employees are entitled to severance packages. Medaille has campuses in Buffalo, Amherst and Rochester; and it plans to partner with Taiwanese and Chinese institutions to offer Medaille courses and degrees to students in those countries.
