
OHIO VOCATIONAL SCHOOL TO CUT JOBS

Hamilton, Ohio's Butler Tech vocational school will cut at least 33 teaching, support and administrative positions; and at least eight will be laid off. Certain educational programs will also be shut down. The school has lost more than a million dollars from cut from the state budget. Founded in 1975, Butler Tech now operates over 190 satellite programs in ten associate school districts.

<https://blog.granted.com/>