

ALORICA TO CREATE 600 CALL CENTER JOBS IN INDIANA

Alorica will build a new call center in Lafayette, Indiana, creating more than 600 jobs. Hiring begins in June. The Indiana Economic Development Corporation has granted Alorica up to $675,000 in tax credits and up to $100,000 in training grants. The IEDC will also provide the city of Lafayette with a $15,000 grant to assist in off-site infrastructure improvements. The firm also employs 750 at a call center in Terre Haute. Based in Chino, California, Alorica is a leading customer service management provider that supports the entire customer lifecycle, from front-office customer interaction to back-office reverse logistics.

<https://blog.granted.com/>