
DELAWARE TO ELIMINATE 500 STATE JOBS

The State of Delaware will eliminate 500 jobs through attrition. There will not be layoffs. State Republicans wanted 600 jobs cuts -- the final number was decided through negotiations with Democratic Governor Jack A. Markell. The deal will save the state $13.7 million in payroll next fiscal year. The First State currently employs 31,500 people on the payroll, including 13,500 public education employees.
