YALE INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTS EXPANDING IN NC, CREATING 65 JOBS

New York's Yale Industrial Products will invest $3 million in its Wadesboro, North Carolina plant, creating 65 new jobs. The company will get a $116,000 state grant through the One North Carolina Fund. The new jobs will pay an average $37,000 a year, significantly higher than the Anson County average wage of $28,000. Yale Industrial Products is a subsidiary of Amherst, New York's Columbus McKinnon.
