
CARBON MOTORS PLANT WOULD CREATE 10,000 JOBS

CARBON MOTORS CORPORATION

Carbon Motors plans a manufacturing plant to build police cars, and is considering three sites, in South Carolina, Indiana and Georgia. The plant would create 1,300 jobs locally, and 10,000 nationally. The company will decide on a location by the end of Summer. Atlanta, Georgia's Carbon Motors Corporation manufactures the E7, the first purpose-built police car ever made. The E7 will only be available to law enforcement agencies.
