
DUFFY TOOL CLOSING INDIANA PLANT, STREETING 130

The Duffy Tool & Stamping factory in Muncie, Indiana will shut down by the end of October, putting 130 workers on the dole queue. Duffy's parent company, Brittany Stamping, blames the shutdown on the global economic meltdown. In 2001, Duffy employed 450 in Muncie. Established in 1978, Brittany Stamping is a private company located in Cleveland, Ohio. It has an annual revenue of $112,600,000, and employs a staff of approximately 1,300.
