US AIR FORCE HIRING FOR MID-CAREER POSITIONS

The Aeronautical Systems Center at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, Ohio is hosting a career fair on August 27th. An undisclosed number of mid-career positions are available, in logistics, finance, supply-chain management, engineering, contracting, and data management. The starting salary for most of the jobs is $69,000. Job candidates must be US citizens; will need security clearance; and may have to travel. The Aeronautical Systems Center is an Air Force product center that designs, develops and delivers aerospace weapon systems and capabilities for the Air Force, other US military, and allied and coalition-partner warfighters. ASC manages 420 Air Force, joint and international aircraft acquisition programs and related projects; executes an annual budget of $19 billion; and employs a work force of more than 11,000 people, located at Wright-Patterson and 38 other locations worldwide.
