
JETLINE OPENING NEW PLANT IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Jetline, a company that makes custom promotional items, is opening a new plant in Gaffney, South Carolina. The plant, which is expected to come on line at the end of this month, will bring in 247 jobs over the next five years. Jetline, founded in 1997, is based in Mt Vernon, New York. It manufactures custom promotional items, like water bottles and key chains with company logos on them.
