JOHNSON & JOHNSON JOB CUTS HIT PENNSYLVANIA

Last week we reported that Johnson & Johnson is laying off 8000 across its operations. 174 of those will be in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, where the company has an R&D facility. The affected employees, who are not represented by a union, will lose their jobs on January 8th. The company says they do not have bumping rights but can apply at other J&J owned facilities.
