SOUTHWEST POWER ADDING 200 JOBS IN LITTLE ROCK

Southwest Power Pool has announced plans to build a new corporate headquarters at a cost of $62-million that will add 200 new jobs in Little Rock, Ark. The additions will bring SPP's total employment to more than 600 people with total compensation close to $75 million. Southwest Power Pool is an energy company that covers a geographic area of 370,000 square miles. The new location in Little Rock will be used to combine three of the company's operations.
