
HUNTINGTON BANK ADDING 60 JOBS AT MICHIGAN CALL CENTER

Columbus, Ohio-based Huntington Bank is adding 60 new jobs to its call center in Holland, Michigan, which will bring the total number of employees there to 210. It is the fifth major investment Huntington has announced in Michigan in as many months. The bank currently has more than 1,500 employees and 115 branches in Michigan. "Huntington is deeply committed to Michigan and to helping the state to generate jobs," said Jim Dunlap, Huntington's president across Michigan and senior executive vice president for commercial banking. "We are very excited about expanding in Holland, where we continue to find talented and customer-oriented recruits, which is critical to our high standards for excellent customer service." Over the past five months in Michigan, Huntington has announced it would provide $720 million in loans to more than 5,000 small businesses in the state; the hiring of more than a dozen additional bankers; doubled the number of commercial bankers in eastern Michigan; and added four additional banking offices in Macomb County. Huntington is seeking recruits for the Holland call center with experience in sales and services. Anyone interested can apply online at www.huntington/careers.
