

SIGNATURE HEALTHCARE BRINGING 96 NEW JOBS TO LOUISVILLE

Officials for Signature HealthCARE LLC announced it's moving its national headquarters to Louisville, Ky., which will result in 96 new jobs in the area. The jobs are expected to have an average annual wage of $75,000, according to the Louisville Business Journal. Signature HealthCARE is a long-term healthcare facility operator based in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. "Kentucky is proud to once again attract an industry-leading headquarters operation, creating more than 120 new high-paying, quality jobs," said Kentucky Gov. Steve Beshear. "The location of Signature HealthCARE's national headquarters helps to solidify Louisville as a leader in the aging care industry and is a testament to the business climate and quality of life Kentucky offers." Signature HealthCARE operates 66 long-term healthcare facilities in seven southeastern states and employs nearly 11,000 people. The company plans an initial investment of $5.4 million at the Louisville facility.
