

ARCADIA RESOURCES ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR EXPANSION IN INDY

The Herald Tribune: Hoosiers can expect around 900 new jobs in the next few years in the homecare, staffing and pharmaceutical job market. Indianapolis based Arcadia Resources announced recently its plans to expand its headquarters and pharmaceutical operations. Its primary service, DailyMed Pharmacy reviews and assesses clients' various prescriptions and bundles them into daily dose units to facilitate care and treatment. The expansion is partly the result of state tax incentives. In addition to these incentives, the Indianapolis municipal government is currently considering certain tax abatements, reports the Tribune. The majority of the anticipated new jobs include pharmacists, pharmacy staff, account managers and sales staff. Hiring is not expected to go into effect until 2013.
