

---

INTRASPHERE PLANS TO RELOCATE TO THE GARDEN STATE

The life sciences consulting firm Intrasphere Technologies is packing its bags and relocating to the Garden State, says nj.com. The firm is leaving its New York office behind in exchange for an office in Jersey City. It will bring over 100 jobs with it and has plans of creating an additional 180 in the next two years. Intrasphere was lured to Jersey with by an Economic Development Authority grant worth $12.4 million over the next 10 years, reports the site. In exchange for the funds, the company has agreed to create new jobs. Intrasphere provides Life Sciences organizations with comprehensive, business-focused consulting services and solutions that help them achieve maximum business performance while satisfying regulatory mandates.

<https://blog.granted.com/>