MANUFACTURER HAYNES ADDS 50 POSITIONS IN COLLIER COUNTY

Precision parts manufacturer Haynes Corporation has shut down a California branch which is consequently creating new jobs in Collier County, Florida. Training has already begun for the 50 new positions, adding to the already hundred or so that exist in Collier County. "Currently we're in the process of doubling our business in Collier County and we're shutting down our California operation and moving it to Collier County," said Director of Manufacturing at Haynes Corporation, Dan Neely. The news is a boon to local businesses which will benefit from having more people spending their paychecks in the area.
