

TALK2REP CALL CENTERS EXPAND, WILL HIRE 1,000 PEOPLE

Talk2Rep Call Centers and Contact management services announced its upcoming expansion plan that will result in hiring of around 1,000 employees to work for various big clients belonging to the Fortune 500. Talk2Rep will employ up to 1,000 people for work at home jobs and in their Florida office. Job creation for at home workers include customer service and on line chat support for large healthcare and telecommunications companies. Talk2Rep mentioned that a typical call center or chat representative will earn an average amount between $10-$14 per hour, or over $15.00 for some sales positions. Talk2Rep CEO Jim Ryan said that their company is continuously growing and expanding over the past two years, providing excellent service to globally recognized clients. "Our call centers are expanding with organic growth from our existing clients and we're actively recruiting talented and motivated people interested in working from their homes to service our clients." Talk2Rep is a company that specializes in providing companies with outsourced support service such as call center sales, customer service and on line web chat. The company offers a long history of stable employment and competitive pay to its employees. Talk2Rep celebrated its 10th anniversary last August.

<https://blog.granted.com/>