West Business Services, a company that specializes in sales processes and account management for more than 20 years, is adding additional 160 new jobs to meet the growing demand of its business. West Business Services, with over 100 clients, attributed the creation of new jobs to the improving trend in the healthcare and telecommunication industries. The company said that the new jobs are just the start of more hiring because West Business Services is expecting more demand for sales and account management services in the coming months. The sales company recently held a job fair to fill the new job slots which are all sales and account management positions. Kathy Van Zeeland, Divisional Director of Employment, said that the US economy is slowly recovering today so more companies are now encouraged to boost their businesses that will result in the hiring of more people. "It says the economy is starting to come back. Maybe a little bit slow, but it is coming back. Our clients recognize that what we do is important and generates a lot of revenue for them." West Business Services revealed that the company may hire over 200 additional workers in the late spring or early summer if the demand continues to increase.
