
CEOS IN AMERICA SAY THAT OUTLOOK FOR JOBS IS BETTER

A recent survey of America's top CEOs show that most all believe that the economy is better this year than it was last year. However, rising gas prices and domestic debt problems put a damper on their outlooks. Some of the views taken by CEOs to improve the economy are increasing big business hiring, focusing on research and development, and addressing long term economic challenges.

Read the original article here:

America's CEOs: Jobs outlook better, but ...

<https://blog.granted.com/>