

JOB POSTINGS ONLINE SOAR TO NEW HEIGHTS WITH 148,000 NEW VACANCIES IN MAY

According to The Conference Board, online job openings shot up in May to 148,000. This January saw an increase of 526,000 in jobs advertised online, so this year has seen its share of highs and lows in online advertised jobs. The increase in May is great news, as April saw a decline of 124,000 for job openings online. Over the last four months, demand for labor has been up at an average of 66,000 jobs per month.
