

RETURNING VETERANS FIND JOB SEARCH A CHALLENGE - SOUTHTOWNSTAR

Veterans returning from Afghanistan and Iraq found it difficult to get suitable jobs. According to the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics, the unemployment rates in the country for these returning veterans was 12.1 percent on average through 2011. These veterans struggle to use their army experience into a civilian workplace. They have to prove their skills in front of the employers to get suitable employments.

Read the full article here:

Returning veterans find job search a challenge - SouthtownStar

<https://blog.granted.com/>