

JOB CANDIDATES URGED TO BE PUNCTUAL, POLITE - FORT WAYNE JOURNAL GAZETTE

Simple courtesy can make a job seeker stand out from the crowd. While employers may hear promises from everyone they interview, demonstrating integrity can show them that you are the person to fill the needs they have. Listen to potential employers to understand why they are hiring, give the people you meet respect and courtesy, and you may find that they will decide you are the type of person they want in their organization.

Read the full article here:

Job candidates urged to be punctual, polite - Fort Wayne Journal Gazette

<https://blog.granted.com/>