
SISTER CEOS RUNNING BIG PUBLIC COMPANIES AT THE SAME TIME

"Meet the Sister CEOs" examines the numerous cases of sibling CEOs of major corporations in America. For the first time, two sisters will be running major public corporations at the same time. It details the sisters stories and how the sisters have been instrumental to each others success. The story also examines siblings landing in high profile positions with the same company. The article gives several examples of the pressures and complications involved when siblings work for the same company. Another point of the article was how the siblings tend to rely on each others advice when it comes to career decisions. Read the full article here: Meet the Sister CEOs
