

NO RECESSION FORECASTED BY ECONOMISTS, ALTHOUGH SLOW JOB GROWTH STILL SEEN

There is finally some good news among all of the recession worries. According to US Chamber of Commerce economists, a recession is not likely to happen. Unfortunately they also see continued slow job growth, but slow job growth is better than no job growth, and also better than job loss. The recovery is going slow now because of the problems in the housing market, according to Marty Regalia, chief economist of the US Chamber of Commerce.
