103,000 JOBS ADDED IN THE US IN SEPTEMBER

Washington reported on labor, and the outlook was better than anticipated. Unemployment stayed at 9.1 percent, and 103,000 jobs were added in the U.S., and 137,000 in private sectors. Though this encouraged some, and has caused a slight spike in stocks, some are warning that this could be short lived. Read the full article here: U.S. added 103,000 jobs in September
