

JOB CUTS: JOBS HUMANS MAY LOSE TO ROBOTS - JOBS & HIRE

By 2013, humans will be replaced robots, say a new report. That will be one robot for every 5,000 people, according to Marshall Brain, founder of How Stuff Works and author of Robotic Nation. Four jobs that may be threatened by this new age robot takeover include the following: Pharmasists: The system will also be able to fill IV syringes and bags with medication. Drivers: Last fall Google announced that it was creating an automated car that could increase safety and reduce human's commute on daily basis. Astronauts Store clerks

Read the full article here:

Job Cuts: Jobs Humans May Lose to Robots - Jobs & Hire

<https://blog.granted.com/>