

APPLE: PRODUCING LINE OF MACS IN U.S. BY 2013

The article is about Apple moving one of its production units from China to United States next year. The efforts are made since the wages rise in China and in order to create more manufacturing jobs in United States. The company would spend about $100 million in 2013 to move the production from China. Apple has planned to work with people and it is not doing anything on itself.

Read the full article here:

Apple to produce line of Macs in the US next year

<https://blog.granted.com/>