

TELECOM ITALIA NOT LOOKING TO EXPAND IN LATIN AMERICA: CHAIRMAN

Telecom Italia is not looking to expand in Latin America, but the company does need to strengthen its infrastructure due to growing regional data traffic, chairman Franco Bernabe said on Saturday. The kind of investments we make are investments that strengthen the competitiveness of the companies where we already have investments, and where we have potential for growth, he said. The company's operations in the region are set to benefit from Latin America's relative economic health and resilience to the global slowdown. Read the full article here: Telecom Italia not looking to expand in Latin America: chairman

<https://blog.granted.com/>