

UPDATE 3-IKEA TAKES MEATBALLS OFF EUROPE MENUS AFTER HORSEMEAT FOUND

Prague Stockholm Swedens IKEA stopped nearly all sales of meatballs at its furniture store cafeterias across Europe after tests in the Czech Republic on Monday showed some contained horsemeat. The world's No. 1 furniture retailer, known also for the signature restaurants at its huge out-of-town stores, said it was pulling all meatballs produced by its main supplier in Sweden after the tests showed horsemeat in its beef and pork meatballs.
