

OIL RISES 4TH DAY IN A ROW, TOPS AT $93 A BARREL

Traders must be rubbing their eyes to believe the spurt in oil prices for the fourth consecutive day, to touch $93 per barrel on Tuesday, which is also incidentally the highest during this month. Oil prices have now gone up almost 3 percent in the last four trading sessions. However, much will depend on this week's reports on U.S. oil supplies to determine if the same momentum will be maintained.

Read the full article here:

Oil rises for 4th day, tops \$93 a barrel

<https://blog.granted.com/>